MULTICULTURALISM OF PESANTREN KYAI
A Study of Kyai’s Perspectives on Multicultural Issues and Their Actualization
At Pesantren Sunni Darussalam and al-Imdad Yogyakarta Indonesia

Abstract
Kyai (the religious leader of pesantren) is a cultural broker between Pesantren (Traditional Islamic Boarding School) and the outside world. This means that a kyai has the creative role of a social change as indicated by the fact that he occupies important positions and strategic roles in directing the socio-cultural dynamics of the community, especially of the traditionally religious communities. Therefore, this will make a very interesting academic study, one that would put pesantren into the context of the actual issues of multiculturalism, as this could be the benchmark tendency of “ideology” and its contributive meaning of kyais in the Islamic broader spectrum. Currently, Yogyakarta is widely recognized as one of the intellectual and cultural medina of the country. Therefore, it is just reasonable that a kyai of a pesantren is familiar with various actual issues such as multiculturalism, both in its realm of thought, practice, or the realm of its inculturation. One of the unique problems that arises is the intensity of contact of a pesantren and university world. Pesantren Sunni Darussalam and al-Imdad that would serve as the object of this study is so strong in the vortex of the intersection, for their head kyai and all of its Islamic teachers (ustadz) are university graduates, participating actively in the academic life of their campus, and most of its students studying at higher education campuses (universities) as well. Kyais in both pesantrens have been appreciating and applying multiculturalism to articulate the demands of the traditional system of pesantren, the reality of a pluralistic society, and the challenge of modernization dynamics.

Key words: multiculturalism, kyai of pesantren, social transformation, and moral perspectives

A. Introduction
In the book of The Javanese Kyai: the Changing Roles of Cultural Broker, Clifford Geertz called kyai as a liaison (broker) between the culture of pesantren and the outside world. What Geertz has noted implies that Kyai holds a vital role in educating people through the institutional base outside the pesantren and filter values so as not to contaminate the culture of the pesantren. The vital role has been also confirmed by the results of a study by Hiroko Harikoshi which concludes that a kyai has a creative role for social change. The thesis of Harikoshi and Geertz, kyais have proved to occupy important positions and strategic roles in directing the socio-cultural dynamics of the community, especially the traditionally religious communities. Currently, the important and strategic role of a kyai in the society cannot be separated from their leadership in the educational and religious institutions such as in pesantren, and in their active roles in the socio-religious organizations. It is commonly found that various studies on kyais are well attached to the educational/religious institution or socio-religious organizations that they manage, such as: kyais of tiny mosques (langgar), kyais of pesantren, kyais of NU, and kyai of Muhammadiyah. This shows that kyais and educational institutions or socio-religious organizations are like the two sides of a coin that make a single unit.
According to Hasan Mu'arif Ambary,² the Indonesian Islamic history is the history of the expansion of the students (Santri) of pesantren's practices and their influence on the lives of religious, social, and political affairs of Indonesia. Hence, a pesantren in a social change always serves as a platform for the expansion and the dissemination of Islam. It is sufficient to say that pesantrens are seen as the main media of Islamic influence in the moral development of the Indonesian nation. The affirmation of the actual function of pesantren serves simultaneously as an affirmation of the strategic role of kyais. It thus becomes a very interesting academic study that would explore pesantren in the context of the actual issues of multiculturalism, knowing that this may serve as (1) the benchmark of, to what extent a kyai and his pesantren have stepped beyond the traditional roles, and (2) the standpoint of the contributing role of kyais and their pesantren in a broader spectrum, namely Islam that is expected to be a great opportunity to influence the social life and the nationalism in the country; Islam can be assessed as a unifying force amid differences. Associated with the Islamic spectrum, A. Syafi’i Ma’arif asserted that as the majority of the population, Muslims should no longer be busy figuring out the relations among Islam, Indonesia, and humanity. These three concepts must be placed in a single breath that Islam is being developed in Indonesia as a tolerant Islam that is, friendly, open, inclusive, and able to provide solutions to the problems of the nation and the country.³ This then means that there is no point of worrying about colors of Islam found in Indonesia; Islam which is in fact characterized by the elements of local and global issues that cannot be avoided, so long as it is not carried away and drifted away within negative and puritan local elements neither swept away within a global wave that would invite a catastrophe for Indonesian Muslims.⁴

As the reformation era unfolded, it has risen the awareness of the intellectual elite of the need to immediately organize the country and the nation that has been deteriorated because of the various "mismanagement" in the New Order era. On that basis, in 2000, about four hundred independent intellectuals, initiated by Prof. Nurcholish Madjid, Prof. Emil Salim, and others gathered in Bali to seek solutions to the total deterioration of the country. One of the recommendations made in the meeting was the importance of multicultural education. At least there are two things that should be underlined related to the recommendations. Firstly, they agree that the in-orderly life of this diverse community was worsened by the emergence of an escalating conflict, both vertically and horizontally. In this regard, the escalation is considered as a serious threat to the survival of the nation’s integration within the Unitary State of the Republic of Indonesia. Secondly, the education system over the years, including religious education in pesantren was considered not managed to foster tolerance and community wisdom in addressing the socio-cultural realities of the people. As a result, public awareness of the diversity and appreciation of differences as the basis of the national spirit increasingly faded away because of primordial interests, such as religious sects. Exclusivism, competition, and mutual suspicion are still the dominant issue in inter-group relations. In this regard, it is sufficient to say that religion cannot be regarded as a unifying force for the community.⁵

In the context of the nation and state life, it is obviously unfortunate to know the proliferation of conflicts or violence of racial and religious issues involving religious figures (Kyai); those that can rip the unity, oneness and harmony of the citizens as well as the integrity of the Republic. This is what lies behind the urgency of the socialization and the strengthening of the four pillars of nationality, the Pancasila, the Constitution 45, the Unity in Diversity, and the Unitary State of The Republic of Indonesia, especially when tensions perceived to increase regarding Pancasila ideology and Islam are present.⁶ This tension comes from, among others, the political aspirations of the majority of Muslims who continue to struggle to enforce Islamic law not only on the lives of Muslim individuals, but also at the system level and state institutions,⁷ such as the agenda of the Indonesia Islamic State (NII) movement that recently has seemed to be worrisome.
According to them, in the fight for the ideals of the enforcement of Islamic law, it is not justified to show intolerance to anyone, including to non-Muslims, neither for reasons of maintaining the unity of the nation. In addition to the political aspirations of the majority of Muslims, the conflict violence is indirectly supported by the attitude of endorsing by a number of residents those who are Islamic hardliners. This fact is supported by some survey results that the higher one’s education is the more likely for him/her to agree with the activities of the radical Islam.8

Yogyakarta Special Region (DIY) has become the setting of research on multiculturalism of pesantren kyais because of the status as "Porch of Medina" that covers the diversity and plurality of the citizens. In addition, the academic climate and the socio-cultural interaction have given rise to the unique characteristics of the traditional pesantren in the middle of the insistence of Islamic modernism, the modernization of education and democratization. This in turn affects the appearance of varied typologies of pesantren kyais. Currently, DIY has been widely known as one of the intellectual and cultural meccas of the country. Therefore, reasonable pesantren leaders in this area are familiar with various actual issues like multiculturalism, both in the realm of thought, practice, or the realm inculturation. This at least is indicated by pesantren kyais in DIY that commonly have "campus insights" and half of the students at the pesantren are among the university students, and many pesantren kyais have been participating in various scientific forums and religious dialogues.

Based on the above background, the focus of this study is aimed at analyzing the problems of: (a) the views of pesantren Sunni Darussalam and al-Imdad Yogyakarta on the issues of multiculturalism; (b) the efforts to actualize the views into the educational process in both pesantrens; and (c) the extent of the impact of the actualization of this view to the formation of multicultural awareness of pesantren community.

B. Theoretical Framework
1. Pesantren Kyais

The predicate of Kyai is usually given by the community to those who are rated as clergy, who has become the head of pesantren and has taught the classic books (“yellow books”).9 As an honorific, people who earned kyai are required to meet the requirements (a) implementing the already acquired knowledge (b) passing the knowledge, (c) diligently worshipping, (d) having a congregation (followers) or students (in a pesantren), and (e) devoting knowledge and life for Islam teaching (syiar). Sociologically, the important role of a kyai could be examined through the function of his leadership namely (a) giving directions to the socialization process, (b) inheriting traditions, values, norms, and knowledge, (c) being able to unite groups or communities, and (d) promoting the monitoring and evaluation control so as to preserve or color people’s lives10. In the context of pesantren, the source of authority is influenced by many factors, among others: he is the leader even the owner of a pesantren, carries networking among kyais; and having authority in religious matters.

2. Multiculturalism and Culturalization

According to Nurcholish Madjid, there are at least two perspectives to map Muslims in Indonesia, namely the political view and the perspective of their understanding of Islam11. Viewed from the second standpoint, Muslims can be classified into traditionalists and modernists, even though in its development the differences tend to increasingly blur. Based on this, the multiculturalism of pesantren kyais can be seen as a review of the standpoint of kyais about Islam in relation to the plurality of the society, the interaction with other groups of Muslims, the openness to the outside elements, and the approach development that values diversity. Kyai’s multiculturalism is a reflection of the three models of the strategy adopted by religion or religious institutions in a pluralistic situation today, namely:12 (a) the strategy of conquest or the religious revolution which seeks to unite the view diversity to cope with the pluralistic situation of today; (b) the seclusion strategy which is trying to make walls and being exclusive in order not be carried away by the strong currents of plurality, and (c) the dialogical strategies which is open to sharing various ideas, thoughts and willing to interact with other groups. The last strategy can also be named after the multi-culturalist approach, one that gives freedom to all socio-cultural elements to stay operating while developing cultural and mental attitudes of solidarity and mutual respect to be egalitarian.13

Referring to the Golden era of the Islamic history, multiculturalism at least can be extracted from the values of civil society that has contributed to the establishment of a cosmopolitan society which includes: (a) the inclusiveness, that is an openness to "external elements" through the ability to constructively appreciate and to select; (b) humanism, that is a perspective that treats human beings solely because of his humanity, not because of other reasons, such as race, caste, wealth, and religion. Included in the humanism here is the egalitarian nature that sees human beings as equal; (c) tolerance, that is their patience and greatness of the soul in addressing the differences; and (d) democracy, that is providing a space for freedom of thought and criticism.14 In the context of social religious attitudes, values are seen in line with the theological basis that (a) plurality is the sunna [Usual Will] of God, (b) the recognition of the right of existence of other religions, (c) the intersection and continuity of religions, and (d) absence of compulsion in religion.15

In addition to the historical argument, multiculturalism doctrinally is in conformity with the Islamic humanitarian vision demonstrated by at least three things.16 Firstly, Islam is a religion which is based on the concept of nature. By nature, humans are ready to know God and to develop his humanity because the potential has been provided from birth. Secondly, Islam is a religion that has a high spirit of tolerance. Islam is moderate, fair, and the middle way. This principle should be the intra-religion and also inter-religion foundation of Muslims in order to build a harmonious life, both in the national and global context. Third, Islam is a religion that promotes welfare and avoids wrong-doings. This is the welfare for public order, the benefit for all men without discrimination, not the benefit of a handful people or groups of people.

Harmonious relations between religious communities in Indonesia have not yet been completed. Therefore, over time, the quality of better relations between religious communities seriously needs to be attended.17 Thus, such effort as a cultural-religious education through religious education is highly needed. In this regard, kyais are required to develop patterns of education that promote synthesis (combining materials with social realities), dialogues (developing the santri’s ability to be a good listener, good at analysis and good at politely providing arguments) and care (kyais/ustadz should be a figure that is attentive, responsive to the needs and care about the fate of the santris).18 When the actualization of multiculturalism pursued through "educational orientation", then at least it would include (a) the orientation of the load [such as the integration of the value of multicultural into the educational material], (b) the orientation of learners [such as the implementation of pedagogical equality that encourages students to become more participatory; the process goes dialogically], and (c) social orientation [such as seeking social contributions, social harmony, contextualization, and sensitivity of the kyai/ustadz against biases within the multicultural society].19

C. Research Method

This research was an empirical study with a qualitative approach to the two schools and to the guardian kyais who represent traditional pesantrens in a suburb of the urban (rurban area when taken from the mapping of the qualitative research by Bodgan and Biklen). This research is then included into sociocultural studies by using a particular framework and theoretical assumptions that the world is not "something that can be known directly" (directly knowable) 20, because it requires emic approaches and depends on the perspective held by the researchers. As a form of sociocultural studies, this study assumes that (a) all social relations are influenced by certain factors that need to be explained in a specific context, and (b) all research departs from the reference of theoretical understanding.

Having determined the informants (research subjects) of the two schools, namely: Pesantren Sunni Darussalam Maguwoharjo Sleman, of northern Yogyakarta and Pesantren al-Imdad Pandak, Bantul of southern Yogyakarta, the data collection was carried out through (1) interviews with the informants, especially the kyais, preachers, and santri/pesantren community, (2) observation; and (3) documentation. The data analysis process went through the following phases: recording field notes, analysis of the field notes, and the movement toward results. Furthermore, in order to arrive at the findings of the study and the construction of a theory, an analytic induction process was applied; that is a thorough testing process of the research data (essential-typologically characteristics) in the context inference (assigning meaning; transferability). The data obtained in the field could be: fact (objective reality), perception or opinion, feeling, behavior, and reasoning. As a result of field notes, the data was then described and reflected through a process of mutually sharpening process between the data and the theory simultaneously.

D. Discussion and Analysis
1. Views of Pesantren Kyais on Multiculturalism
a. Pesantren Kyai of Sunni Darussalam

In a pesantren, kyais are the most influential figure and became the central figure. This at least can be seen from the fact: (1) the birth of a boarding school cannot be separated from the initiation and the struggle of a kyai, one who establishes it, (2) development of the pesantren is supported by the leadership of a kyai, and (3) the scientific tradition and religious views of a pesantren is determined by the "ideology" of the kyai. If the notion that a pesantren is an educational institution with the color of being "nativist" is accepted, then discussing the issue of multiculturalism in the context of the actual pesantren is something familiar. This is because the historical development of a pesantren has commonly been found familiar within the socio-cultural setting of the Nusanterra pluralistic society. The accommodative tendency towards pluralism has been shown by pesantren as far as the era of Wali Songo. Pesantren is capable of mixing various elements of culture: Islam, Javanese, Hindu and Buddhist, resulting in a unique process of acculturation of Islam with the local culture, even though it varies across regions.

However, parallel with the increasing globalization and diverse development of the "ideology" of religion in Indonesia, pesantren is considered no longer to display a monolithic face. Various typologies have been commonly found. On the one hand, many pesantrens no longer maintain their being traditional; but on the other hand, there are also schools that are open to modernization or highly critical to modernization along with the development of certain religious militancy. In short, it is highly possible to find pesantrens with a traditional system, a modern system, or one being exclusive, all with varied levels. Pesantren intersection with university life has been more or less encouraging the continuing scientific and religious dialectic which in turn will display shades of certain "Islamic" levels. In this regard, schools/pesantrens are then required to change their pace to respond either positively or negatively to the pressure of the campus (university). The intersection of pesantren and campus can occur through many ways, among others: kyais of pesantren are both graduates and faculties at the same university; the majority of students in pesantren are among the university students; pesantren invites university alumni to teach and to serve as educational staff in the schools; and pesantren opens a level of education service of Ma'had Aly program (advanced level).

One of the problems that emerges in the intersection of pesantren with the campus and with the impact of globalization is the issue of multiculturalism. Pesantren Darussalam Sunni and al-
Imdad as the objects of the study are highly involved within the intersection, for their kyais and ustadz are university graduates; they also actively participate in the academic life on campus; and another fact shows that most of their santris study in the universities. As a central figure, the view of a kyai on the question of multicultural is worth analyzing because it could be an interesting point of view regarding the extent of interrelation between pesantren and campuses especially regarding its role in the creation of transformative thoughts. In general, pesantren is so familiar with the academic issues of multiculturalism, even though the views of each kyai about it can be quite diverse. Kyai Abdul Fattah (hereinafter referred to as Kyai AF), the head of pesantren Sunni Darussalam, interprets multiculturalism as appreciative awareness of diversities and differences in the community. He said, "There is an interpretation that we hold dearly, but we still appreciate the points of other arguments. As much as possible, we will not judge that other opinions are wrong. When we are dealing with a heterogeneous public, we more intensely emphasize on the delivery of moralistic materials". This statement implies that in many occasions, Kyai AF tends to abandon the single perspective of fiqh (Islamic law) that is highly loaded with khilafiyah and promoting more moral perspectives. When the delivery of fiqh materials is required, he would not explain using a single perspective. There is an opinion that he strongly follows, but he admits that another opinion may also deserve to be followed.

That perspective shows at least two things that should be underlined concerning multiculturalism, namely (1) kyais avoid exaggerated truth claims, and (2) kyais appreciate moral paradigm/perspective. Excessive truth claims (claim to truth) tend to negate the possibility of truth of the opinions of others and to "force" people to follow the opinion of his own. Knowing the reality in a diverse community, in presenting his material Kyai AF would attempt to explain the existing diversity of opinions along with their respective arguments. His audience is given freedom to choose one opinion without blaming another. However, Kyai AF would explain the opinion he personally chooses. With this attitude, Kyai AF teaches tolerance in his firmness of his opinion. Regarding this issue, Imam Abu Hanifa said, "My belief is correct but may contain the possibility of any other one that also contains the possibility of truth", the tolerance which is held persistently is needed to build patience to support an opinion by always remaining open to learning from other opinions. The truth of an opinion is relative and consequently it does not need to be fanatically and finalistically taken.

Next, the moral perspective taken by Kyai AF, not the perspective of fiqh, indicates that serious obstacles of multiculturalism often arise from the strongly remaining of fiqh-based perspectives in the realm of religious communities. This is motivated by the belief that fiqh is directly related to a variety of everyday practical actions of a person. Fiqh serves as a kind of practical guide of one’s act and attitude "from wake-up time to bed time". Even sometimes fiqh is positioned as a major parameter in assessing a religious level of a person, whether he can be considered virtuous or not. If it is the case, then fiqh has functioned as a paradigm (perspective), and it determines what is to be believed and, in turn, determines what is to do. In short, a paradigm or a perspective is not only cognitive, but also normative. Paradigm/perspective not only influences the way we think about a reality, but it also affects the way to approach and to act on the reality. The plurality of our society is a reality, and if fiqh has become a paradigm, it will greatly affect judgments, attitudes and actions toward the reality in the community.

According to Jalaluddin Rahmat, making fiqh as a paradigm (perspective) is not considered favorable since it will easily make someone get trapped in a formalistic attitude and get fragmented by particularistic issues. He then ignores the moral dimension which is more fundamental in Islam. For this reason, it is important to change the fiqh paradigm, from being formalistic towards being ethical that is by integrating the wisdom of the law (moral dimension) into the illat (origin) of law. In this context, one manifestation of ethical fiqh is the paradigm of social fiqh that departs from the view to address complex social problems that should become the major concern of the Islamic law. Solving social problems is an effort to fulfill the obligation and responsibility to realize the common welfare. Yet, it has not met the demand required by the social fiqh. However, Kyai AF's efforts to promote moral perspectives to deal with the plurality of the society have proved to be useful to serve as an effort to build a social harmony. Therefore, the teachings of moralistic material are usually more readily accepted by all groups.

In line with the moral perspective, Kyai AF stated further, "The need to be firm, not to be harsh against another group or non-Muslims when needed; should not be in the form of a vigilante in solving a dispute as indicated by the group of Islamic Defenders Front (FPI) against the Ahmadiyah congregation; it needs dialogue opportunities regarding the delivery of content in the learning/teaching; critical attitude towards the militant religious movements such as ISIS-radicals and liberal Islamic movements". Kyai AF's statement confirms the importance of a non-violence and dialogical approach without losing critical and firmness in resolving differences. These are the two sides of an active tolerance, which is tolerant to various disagreements, able to work together in diversities, and have the determined attitude to argue about what s/he believes. With the two sides, the active tolerance that underlies multiculturalism is not the same as the permissive attitude to all forms of irregularities under the freedom of speech recognition.

Within a wider spectrum, socio-religious attitudes as exemplified by Kyai AF actually represents the basic attitude of the majority of Muslims in this country; perhaps as a silent majority, therefore they are able to peacefully coexist and cooperate with other religions on the basis of mutual understanding, mutual respect, and mutual trust. The socio-religious attitudes equip the readiness of Muslims to live in the global village with all of the opportunities and challenges. According to Nurcholish Madjid, the basic attitude is considered in line with the theological basis that (1) plurality is the sunna of God, (2) the right of existence of other religions is recognized, (3) it serves as the intersection/continuity among religions, and (4) there is no compulsion in religion. The normative basis which can be mentioned to strengthen it, among others are Quran Chapter/Surah (Qs). Yunus:19, Qs. al-Baqarah: 62, 112, 213, 256, Qs. al-Ma’idah:48, Qs. al-Nisa: 125, Qs. al-Nahl:36, and Qs. al-Kafirun:6. The inclusive religious attitudes have a solid basis; however, efforts to realize them in the real life have not taken place smoothly. The ideology of "return to the Quran and the Sunnah" as adopted by most contemporary religious movements who endorse a number of violence-nuanced campaign, whether in the form of apostasy, assault, and terrorism is one of the toughest challenges for those inclusive religious attitudes against the establishment of a cosmopolitan society. Therefore, a group of contemporary religious movements have identified the West, non-Muslims, and the Muslims who are considered not in line with their ideology as opponents or enemies. In here, the inclusive-tolerant religious attitudes seem to be forced to deal with the attitude of exclusive religious-radicals that leave no space for dialogues and compromises in solving the problems together, both nationally and globally.

In addition, another challenge the inclusive religious attitude is the teaching of fiqh that is still strongly focusing on a less positive outlook towards people of other religions. Some fiqh tends to contain ideas that discriminate people of other faiths. In the tradition of fiqh, relations among religions, Muslims and non-Muslims, presumably has not obtained a fair solution for several reasons, namely (1) Fiqh was written in a time when relations between Muslims and non-Muslims were not so conducive, (2) Fiqh was written in a situation when the internal Muslims were not so solid, and (3) the presence of religious symbols which implicitly advocate a radical stance towards other religions. Jamal al-Banna termed fiqh with such a fiqh with degradation (conservative) dimension that is not in line with the paradigm of the community revival.

Regarding the religious freedom, the model of a conservative fiqh also carries double standards. Religious freedom is only recognized for other faiths who want to convert to Islam. As for Muslims, there is no freedom of religion, staying in Islam or converting to another religion. Therefore, Muslims converting voluntarily may be given capital punishment, death penalty.\textsuperscript{32} Conservative \textit{fiqh} tends to prevent themselves against liberalism, pluralism, and secularism. According to al-Banna, the declaration by the conservatives that the three paradigms are forbidden is an attitude that is not wise\textsuperscript{33} and is against the principles of human rights, those that are continually fought for in the global stage. In fact, the three paradigms have conformity with Islam; Islam as a religion that upholds freedoms (such as freedom of religion and freedom of thought), Islam that values diversity as a human need and the destiny of God, Islam that rejects the domination in the realm of religion and the need for an Islamic state.

Borrowing the term by al-Banna, Kyai AF seeks to steer clear of conservative \textit{fiqh} when addressing diversity issues even though he still appreciates the normative dictum of the traditional \textit{fiqh}. The books of the traditional combined with those of the contemporary, current issues, and the use of academic reference from campuses have affected the views of Kyai AF resulting in his moderate and inclusive standpoints as revealed in his statement: "In particular, we have not prepared a program for multicultural competence to equip the santris. However, we often associate it with the learning materials, those that are relevant with multicultural issues to foster their moderate attitude".\textsuperscript{36} Pesantren Sunni Darussalam does not have any special curricular programs oriented to equip its santri multicultural competence, but because multicultural issues already are so familiar with the mindset of santri-university students, Kyai AF is seeking for a learning process for his pesantren to be possibly responsive to the question.

Kyai AF highly stresses moderatetism (\textit{tawassuthiyah}) and tolerance (\textit{tasamuh}) still by adhering to the normative dictum of traditional books that normally become the teaching/learning materials at various pesantrens. Serving as a \textit{kyai} of a traditional pesantren along with a faculty member of a university (lecturer at a university), Kyai AF is open to the actual demands even though he would still keep a cautious policy in articulating his thoughts and in running a leadership role. This cannot be separated from the religious "ideology" that he follows and the socio-cultural context of the rurban (town edge) society that he is dealing with.

\textbf{b. Kyai of Pesantren al-Imdad}

Among traditionally religious communities, a \textit{kyai} has an important role and his pesantren institution also serves as an acculturation basis. Pesantren al-Imdad is located in a rural area with people of a religious-traditional character. In addition, pesantren al-Imdad has a network of intellectuals and quite extensive cooperations with several pesantrens in Bantul, Yogyakarta. This pesantren's Kyai has an active role in the network of Forum Kamunikasi Pondok Pesantren (Communication Forum among Pesantrens) in the district of Bantul. This pesantren is coordinating dozens of pesantrens, both small and large ones, those located in the southern part of Yogyakarta. With such an active role, Kyai Habib Syakur (hereinafter referred to as Kyai HS), the leader at pesantren al-Imdad, is not only a central figure in his pesantren but also a figure of considerable influence in the region of Bantul, particularly through the networking among the pesantrens. With this network, Kyai HS who serves as the chairman of the Forum Komunikasi antar Pondok Pesantren (FKPP) often holds activities at the district level and coordinates \textit{kyai} pesantrens from various areas in Bantul.

Kyai HS interprets multiculturalism as a willingness to work together with various groups without any segregating attitude. He says, "I assist Islamic study groups with backgrounds as diverse as: NU, Muhammadiyah, Javanese, and Tafsir Al-Qur'an Organization (MTA), held at the Village Hall every morning of Sunday Legi (Legi: the 4th day of the 5-day week of Javanese calendar). The study material that I give has to be general [across groups], such as morals. Even when I have to talk about problems of \textit{khilafiyah}, I would attempt to clarify all various options/opinions". The statement implies that Kyai HS prioritizes moral issues and responses to khilafiyah of religious issues using multi perspectives, given that the audience comes from diverse backgrounds and ulama's opinions about the issues are also various. In terms of multiculturalism, Kyai HS chooses an approach necessary to (1) avoid excessive truth claims, (2) avoid all black-or-white perspectives, and (3) appreciate moral paradigm/perspectives. Excessive truth claims (claim to truth) tend to make one's own opinion absolute, negating the possibility of correctness of the opinions of others and tend to require others to follow the opinion they hold. Truth claims usually originate from the absolutist attitudes which tend to monopolize the truth. Recognizing the realities of a pluralistic society, in delivering religious issues Kyai HS, and also Kyai AF, as much as possible tries to explain the diversity of opinions that exist along with their respective arguments. The audience is given some sort of flexibility in choosing one opinion without having to downgrade another. However, Kyai HS keeps trying to explain which opinion he personally holds.

In line with the moral perspective, Kyai HS also stated, "I do not agree to in-the-name-of-religion violence; violence (the right to force) is the domain of the state. Caring about the society is given to the santris by alternately assigning them picketing along the roadside to help push bikes of local residents with heavy loads when they go up a steep road." Kyai HS's statement confirms his stance against in-the-name-of-religion anxiety and violence, and highlights the importance of pesantren to train students to build concern over the community without noting the "color of the shirt". In the view of Kyai HS, multiculturalism is demanding concern for the marginalized groups, one that has to be carried into real actions. In fact, the concern regarding the people's culture is also shown by Kyai HS, one which has been "shunned away" by the santris. The hostility (competing) posture shall not be held, but the ability to live together is the one that has to be nurtured so that some sort of colorful culture can then be build. Kyai HS has displayed a harmonious attitude that seeks to appreciate or embrace tradition that has lasted for generations, namely the tradition of Nyadran at Makam Sewu (name of burial place). Slowly, Kyai HS is entrusted to be the chairman of the committee of the Nyadran, an event that incorporates Islamic values (or minimize the values that are less Islamic) into Nyadran activities. In multiculturalism, one of the pillars is cultural integration. With this approach, Kyai HS has applied the "integrative" approach by building the willingness to sit together, to blend, and to unify in the cultural diversity to integrate Islamic values into an acculturative manner. This is the embodiment of a cultural approach "ngeli ning ojo nganti keli" (let one drifted along the water but never get swept away); and this, in the cultural interaction, requires a tolerant attitude towards various cultural differences. They also need to be able to work together in diversity, able to adapt to the environment, not applying manner of segregation, and keeping appropriate firmness of attitude regarding their belief.

Kyai HS seeks to avoid the standpoint of the conservative fiqh in addressing diversity, even he is able to transform the dictum of the traditionally normative fiqh into "peaceful teaching *fiqh"; the text of the fiqh is discussed with the reality of the socio-cultural community through the wisdom of the cultural approach to building harmony in the plural community. The books of the traditional combined with the contemporary ones, current issues, and the utilization of campus life references has affected Kyai HS to show moderation and inclusive standpoints, even the "integrative" manners (never take a distance). Multiculturalism by Kyai HS is demonstrated by his willingness to become familiar with the culture of the pluralistic society and his efforts to negotiate with all parties to build a "cultural identity" with which he believes is more in line with the Islamic values which is rahmatan lil 'alamin (for all mankind). Conceptually, there are three kinds of strategies/approaches in addressing the plurality, namely: (1) the strategy of conquest or religious revolution which seeks to unite the diversity in the views considered true, 2) strategy of seclusion that is trying to make barriers and be exclusive so as not to drift away with plurality issues, and (3) the dialogical strategies which is open to sharing various ideas, thoughts, and willingness to interact with other groups. In this context, Kyai HS takes the third strategy which is also called the multiculturalist approach that gives freedom to all socio-cultural elements to stay alive while developing cultural and mental attitudes of solidarity and mutual respect carried out in an egalitarian way.

Kyai HS strongly criticized the emergence of Sharia regulations in some regions. He said, "I do not agree with the emergence of local Sharia regulations because this will only trigger similar reactions which are political in other regions with non-Muslims as their majority". In the public domain (politics), religious articulation should attend plurality issues. Therefore, the majority should not just show its dominance in a discriminatory measure against minorities. And it is highly possible that it would provoke similar actions in other regions. Kyai HS’s outlook is in line with a multicultural vision that requires the importance of equality in the governance of mutual relationships, including the relationship between the majority and the minority.

Pesantren al-Imdad has a vision of Santri Salih (Courteous, Religious, Nationalist, Skilled, Friendly, Innovative and Environmentally Conscious). This vision is in line with multicultural insights, which are translated into its curricular program, in both its content and process, oriented to equip students with multicultural competence, given the multicultural issue has become so familiar with the thinking of the santri and the congregation members. And the learning process in the pesantren is also employed as much to be responsive to these issues. With that vision, Kyai HS intends to make explicit its "ideology", blending the Islamic outlook, the Indonesianism, and humanity.

The role of its kyai is not only carried out within the scope of pesantren al-Imdad, but also on a wider scale. This is to participate in coloring the socio-religious life of the general public, the real people instead of the santri only. Thus, from the beginning the kyai would assume that indeed the society he is dealing with is multicultural in nature and it requires willingness and ability to value diversity, equality, and respect. According to Kyai HS, religious scholars should not be merely running a traditional role in pesantrens because the pesantrens are supposedly able to actually pioneer the transformation of socio-cultural community in general. A Kyai is expected to be able to portray leadership out of the box, the bold leadership out of the "traditional mainstream" for pioneer community development outside the pesantren.

The reality among the jama'ah (followers) and the pluralistic society require the wisdom of Kyai HS when making responses. The text to be read by the Kyai is not "the yellow book" alone, but also "the people in general." Reading the text of a wider community would find complexities because they require a kyai to be able to adapt, to go down the mountain, and to change the look of the traditional posture of a kyai. Kyai HS’s multiculturalism has been demonstrated by his willingness to become familiar with the culture of a pluralistic society and trying to negotiate with all parties to build a "cultural identity" which he believes is more in line with the Islamic values which is rahmatan lil 'alamin (made for all mankind).

2. The Actualization of Views of a Kyai on Multiculturalism into Pesantren Education Process

a. The Actualization of Kyai’s Perspective in Pesantren Sunni Darussalam

As confirmed by many research results, with his pesantren a kyai plays a strategic role in transforming religious values to the santris and to the surrounding community. The curriculum of pesantren and the socio-religious activities led by pesantrens are the main means of a kyai in actualizing the "ideology" which would become the basis or the framework of the teaching administration. Pesantren Sunni Darussalam has walked a long enough history up until the present conditions. This pesantren can no longer be claimed as fully Salaf (traditional), because it has incorporated elements of khalaf in its curriculum development. Kyai AF’s qualified academic background regarding traditional Islamic studies, Arabic linguistics, and contemporary Islamic discourses has influenced the design of Sunni Darussalam Islamic boarding school curriculum, which includes: Arabic linguistics, traditional Islamic studies, and contemporary Islamic studies. The pattern is still based on books, both the yellow books and the modern books, with the field of study of: (1) Arabic/Arabic Grammar using the book of Qawa'id Asâsiyah and Alfiya Ibnu Malik; (2) Fiqh and Usul Fiqh using Safinah, Taqrib, Fathul Qarib, Fathul Mu'in, and Kifâyatul Akhyâr, (3) Akhlak/Tasawuf using Irsyâdul Ibâd, Nashâihiyul Ibâd, Bidâyatul Hidâyah, and Qâmi 'al-Tughyân; (4) Tariikh using Nürul Yaqin, (5) Ta'fsîr using Jalalain Ta'fsîr and Ibn Kathîr, and (6) Hadîth using Bulugh al-Marâm and Riyâdíl Shâlihîn. The learning activities in the pesantren is carried out in the evening after Maghrib (sunset) and in the morning after Subuh (early morning). This is because all the students go to formal educational institutions in the afternoon.

With the structure of the curriculum and the field of the study, Kyai AF adds reinforcement to the preservation of the traditional Islamic literatures that is incorporated with contemporary Islamic studies, either through the study of the book (by content) or via the instructional processes (by process). The characteristics of the santris and the surrounding community to a large extent still value more traditional Islam. This helps Kyai AF to play his role in transforming his ideas. Bahtsul Masâ'îl activities (forum for discussion of various issues of fiqh), which is regularly organized have become a medium to prove the success of Kyai AF in forming the path of their religious thoughts. This is because the problems studied together by the santris in the forums is always approached with a "mazhab (sect)" followed by Kyai AF. Referring to the past history of Islamic thoughts, Kyai AF's mazhab looks like the system ta'liqah (reference) in the teaching of religious issues. This way, he has managed to condition certain works (yellow books) to be programmed in the education system of pesantren Sunni Darussalam. That is semi-canonical in its nature. With this system, students are successfully directed to reason in a frame of mind that has been pre-formulated, although he was given the freedom to refer to various other sources. Naturally, the religious teachings taught by Kyai AF has become some sort of norms that guide or at least inspire the academic activity in the pesantren and perceived as something that "should" or "must" be accepted, for it comes from the authority that has been well attested for several generations, not as something that each person can simply decide for themselves according to their ability and thinking. In this regards, Kyai AF said, "The theme or issue being studied is the actual things, the daily issues in the fiqh. In this activity, the process and the results of the study are still within the framework of the traditional pesantren embraced by pesantren Sunni Darussalam (NU/Salafiya). So there is no such thing as liberal discourses or deconstruction of thoughts as those promoted by contemporary Muslim thinkers. The yellow books studied remain to serve as references in assessing the actual issues of the practical Fiqh. They also become a reference in resolving religious issues in the society". From the perspective of multiculturalism, strengthening the preservation of the traditional Islamic literatures or disclosure is intended to modernize itself against outside elements. This is not to make students uprooted from their cultural roots. Kyai AF regards Islam to carry traditional Islamic cultural roots of santri and the surrounding community. This is because pesantren Sunni Darussalam has the primary responsibility to provide the introduction of the traditional Islamic literatures, without closing themselves from Islamic treasures of modernistic and actual issues.

Most people around pesantren Sunni Darussalam that becomes the target of assistance of Kyai AF are a traditional Islamic society. Based on the normative dictum of the yellow book, Kyai AF has put back in track the religious practices considered less appropriate. Nevertheless, he is trying to avoid giving a judgment regarding the issues still in dispute. With this approach, on the one hand, Kyai AF has managed to open a space for minority communities to adapt and to blend in with the majority even though in certain cases they stay firmly to the opinion they have adopted; and at the same time Kyai AF has also succeeded in showing his strong belief in his own opinion amidst a wide selection of other opinions. He also managed to convey his "critical" opinion to any deviation of religious practices in the community still with an acceptable language. Giving an equal space to the minorities in the society shows a form of acceptance (in recognition). Through this equality, the majority and the minority both recognized and pursued patterns of fair relationship / interaction. Fairly, Kyai AF imposes opinions on the issues that are still in dispute only to those who would receive it (exclusive locus); he would not force other groups to apply. This is found valid as long as the core values (universal) and the differences in values in particular are something tolerable (can be tolerated) and there is no obstacle for people to accept them. According to Kyai AF, we will not say that it is "wrong". This is one of the parameters of moral perspectives that consider the truth is pluralistic in nature.

Accordingly, Kyai AF assumes that pesantren as "the mecca" of religious communities should not monopolize the exclusive control of all religious activities without the community's willingness to share them with other socio-religious institutions that have first existed. The rejection of the Kyai of the proposal to move the sacrificial activities (qurban) from the mosque to pesantren Sunni Darussalam, for example, can be interpreted as willingness to share and as recognition of the function of "local wisdom" in maintaining social harmony. The long history of the community life certainly has a variety of wisdom for building and maintaining unity. Therefore, it would be naive if the wisdom would be simply negated since we are always excited to transplant new things to organize the life of the society.

b. The Actualization of the Perspectives of Kyai in Pesantren al-Imdad

One of the functions of education is socialization. This means that pesantren as an educational institution is required to manage to well portray these functions. With the functions, a kyai would serve as somebody who stays forefront in transforming religious values and in encouraging the process of socialization of the santris with the surrounding community. The curriculum of the pesantren and the socio-religious activities led by the pesantren are the main means of the Kyai to actualize the transformative vision that has become the basis or framework of the teaching administration. Pesantren al-Imdad has walked a long enough history to arrive at the current level. This pesantren can no longer be said to be fully Salaf (traditional), for it has incorporated elements of khalaf (modern) in the curriculum development. This pesantren has also adopted a national curriculum used in formal education institutions. Kyai HS's academic background that is not only qualified in the traditional Islamic studies, but also in Arabic linguistics, and contemporary Islamic discourses has inspired the structure of the curriculum of the pesantren of al-Imdad, which includes: Arabic linguistics, studies of traditional Islam, and other contemporary Islamic studies. Kyai HS runs routine congregations provided for the surrounding communities in the form of TPQ (Qur'an School) sorogan at nights and in the mornings and madrasah diniyah (institution for teaching merely religious knowledges) in the afternoon. In addition, he regularly [every selapan (Javanese: five weeks)] holds Quran recitals in as many as 30 mosques, one at a time.

Kyai HS and pesantren al-Imdad have handled many activities of religion education, both in and outside the pesantren. With a curriculum that covers the field of the study, Kyai HS also provides some reinforcement of the preservation of traditional Islamic literatures through the incorporation of the yellow book and the contemporary Islamic studies, either through the study of the book (by content) or via the instructional process (by process). The characteristics of the santris and the surrounding community to a large extent are still valuing the traditional Islamic values more. These characteristics then help optimize the efforts of Kyai HS to realize his ideas. As a field operator, Kyai HS has been trying to reach many parties, including the public of Kejawen (Javanese beliefs) or Abangan (Moslems not practicing the teachings). The work has helped him appreciate the tradition that has lasted for generations, like the tradition of Nyadran (religio-cultural tradition celebrated in the month before Ramadan) at Makam Sewu. Kyai HS said, "Slowly, I will be entrusted to be the chairman of the committee of Nyadran activities that can incorporate Islamic values (or minimize the values that are less Islamic) in the activities. Now the local government activities of Nyadran have gained recognition for being one of the religious tourisms in Bantul celebrated with festivals and sema'an (recital) of al-Qur'an. This statement reflects optimism in repairing the having-degraded culture. According to Kyai HS, initially, the tradition of Nyadran was actually richly loaded with the Islamic values, but since it is mixed with many interests, this tradition is slowly deviating from the spirit of the original ancestors. It is now considered to just being a fun event and even close to immoral practices. This fact has helped Kyai HS to continue to watch the procession of Nyadran activities despite the negative opinion of many parties who consider his work as "too much". With his Kyai status, in fact HS is considered unduly to pioneer Nyadran activities where many sinful doings are committed. In this context, Kyai HS can be seen as a person who seeks to perform the role of a "culture broker". This is because he dared to jeopardize his reputation for involving the culture of Abangan and providing further added values to the culture which is then sold with some profit since he has managed to polish the event to become more attractive. This is the excess of the cultural approach compared to other approaches, just time consuming and takes a long process.

Kyai HS' progressive vision has been demonstrated by his development strategy to build the image of a particular advantage with pesantren al-Imdad. The excellent performance in the Book recital has helped promote this pesantren to the local and even the national stage. Kyai HS has created the "Method 33" to help students quickly able to read the Book, one that is printed with no accentuation marks. This method has been tried out in various places through trainings. The progressive vision has also been demonstrated through his strong commitment to promote formal education institutions (madrasas) under the auspices of al-Imdad. Periodically, he would make a pact of integrity with all managers of the madrasas. With this integrity pact, Kyai HS tries to build a joint agreement to promote the institution. After successfully advancing MTs (Madrasah for Junior high), Kyai HS takes a further step by establishing Madrasah Aliyah (MA/madrasah for High School) al-Imdad, and in the near future he plans to open Ma'had Aliy (Islamic boarding schools for higher education studies) al-Imdad. This is what he has revealed, "The development of pesantren al-Imdad is designed through strengthening the image (branding) of excellence in the Book reading, through character development (the integrity pact), and through a partnership network. We are planning to establish Ma'had Aly in pesantren al-Imdad ". The progressive vision of Kyai HS has triggered innovative thinking; he dares to deviate from the traditional pesantren mainstream of the traditional kyais and traditional society. With the progressive vision, Kyai HS would easily appreciate the multicultural insights applied in the teaching in the pesantren, integrated into the curriculum, and disseminated to the pesantren community. According to Kyai HS, pesantrens are required to equip santris with multicultural competence, from awareness training regarding social problems to training students to be critically open-minded. Kyai HS’s program requires that the students do picketing to guard in the street to help the local communities, to directly practice to get familiar with Nyadran cultural traditions, to be committed to together promote education institutions, and to plan that in the near future Ma'had Aliy is concretely open to prove the actualization of multiculturalism in pesantren al-Imdad.

Apart from that, Kyai HS when in charge of delivering religious studies for the general public is also trying to be responsive to the diverse opinions and put forward the clarificative approach to clarify the matter of khilafiyah. He said, "We have built a religious study with people of various backgrounds as diverse as: NU, Muhammadiyah, and the Majlis Tafsir al-Qur'an (al-Qur'an Studies Organization-MTA), held in the village hall every Sunday Legi (Legi: The fourth day of the 5-day week of the Javanese Calendar) morning. The study materials are general in nature. Even if they are offensive problems of khilafiah, we would attempt to clarify various existing choices or opinions”.

Similar with Kyai AF, the majority of the congregation of the religious studies being trained by Kyai HS is from the traditional society. Nevertheless, he kept trying to open up a space for the minorities to mingle with the majority through the recognition of the equality provision (in recognition). Kyai HS would avoid conveying a judgmental view, especially regarding issues still in dispute. And at the same time, he would impose an acceptance of the views only to the parties who embrace them (exclusive locus) and not imposing them to other parties, as long as the core values (universal) and the differences in value in particular are something tolerable (can be tolerated). This is one of the parameters of moral perspectives that consider that truth is plural, truth is not always black and white, or at least truth should not be monopolized.

3. The impact of the Actualization of the Kyai’s Perspectives on Multicultural Community Awareness

As a subculture, pesantren creates its own culture within the internal environment. The rhythm of activities, values, environment, and climate display special characteristics that are not found outside the pesantren environment. The similar is found in the pesantrens that serve as the setting of this study: Sunni Darussalam and al-Imdad. As a subculture, it does not mean that pesantren is isolationist-exclusive. Pesantren is an instrument of a kyai in conducting the transfer of knowledge, transfer of value, and character building to the public. Therefore, there is no doubt when a pesantren’s existence is acceptable to the society, it will significantly affect the life of the people, those who are living in the surrounding area.

a. The Impact on the Community of Pesantren Sunni Darussalam

Pesantren Sunni Darussalam has been growing with the support of the surrounding community. There is a mutualistic symbioses relationship between the pesantren and the community. In addition, the number of students at the pesantren has also increased over time until at least 100 people. Judging from this perspective, the existence of the pesantren carries a significant effect on the pesantren community both internally and externally, that is on groups of people who are related to the pesantren. The forms of engagement with the pesantren can certainly vary, such as formal engagement as students or administration staff of the pesantren; and informal relations such as being the jama’ah (participants/followers) of recitations held by the pesantren.

The data collected has indicated at least four (4) kinds of empirical evidence of impact of the pesantren and the impact of the actualization of the kyai’s views, namely:

1) Improvement of the pesantren community religious activities. Pesantren Sunni Darussalam has programmed routine and incidental activities for both the santris and the surrounding communities, such as mujahadah (prayers to fight against bad desires) and recitals. Such activities have attracted people’s active participation even though their being present varies. However, their active participation in such various activities is more or less good at increasing knowledge and understanding of the religion. In general, their religious activities either daily, weekly, monthly or even yearly would increase in quality and quantity. As many as approximately 60 people of mothers and 50 persons of fathers, and as many as 100 students (plus a number of incidental jama’ah of the pesantren) participate in the congregation and it shows evidence the role of the Kyai AF of Sunni Darussalam to influence the community in a big enough scale.

2) Improvement of Public Willingness to Sacrifice
Besides being financially empowered, the willingness to sacrifice (slaughtering of livestock) is also influenced by a growing public awareness of the importance of sacrificing. The implementation of the sacrifices (slaughtering of livestock) is centered in the village mosque, not in schools. Kyai AF encourages the students to be actively engaged in the committee organization. According to Kyai AF, at first, public willingness to sacrifice was low. Now the number is increasing, even some are not the village residents.

3) Reduction of Drinking Behavior
For some people, drinking has been so common. When a night-long-stay-up event is held (get together and stay up) at homes or event gathering in a certain place, we can see people ngombe (drinking) while playing. This condition was spotted by Kyai AF when he initially pioneered the establishment of pesantren Sunni Darussalam. Now people consider it as shameful practices already. If still someone would do it, he would move away from the boarding school environment.

4) Harmony in Diversity Community
Santri of Pesantren Sunni Darussalam are not all with a traditional Islamic background. The same is found with the surrounding community. However, they can live together in harmony; they even actively get involved in various socio-religious activities inside and outside the pesantren. As for Tarawih prayers and recitation activities in the village, for example, those who have a different view could blend into one in the prayers of Tarawih and also follow the teachings. However, when associated with Idul Adha they can be different due to a difference in the classification of 10 Dhuzlhiijjah (date in Arabic Calendar).

b. The impact on the Pesantren Community of al-Imdad
Pesantren al-Imdad has been growing with the support of the surrounding community. Originally, this school was a "shelter" of people who dropped out of school but still wanted to continue to study while working. There is a mutualistic symbiosis relationship between the pesantren and the community. As for the number of students at the school, it keeps increasing from time to time to not less than 200 people living in the pesantren dormitory while attending school. This fact indicates that the existence of the pesantren has a significant effect on the pesantren community, that is a group of people both from the internal and the external who are tied to the boarding. The success of Kyai HS in developing Madrasah Tsanawiyah (Secondary Islamic School or MTs), which then came under the auspices of al-Imdad has enhanced the reputation of this pesantren. Previously, MTS was managed by LP, Maarif of NU but it did not sufficiently develop and it was even almost closed down. After the MTs progresses, Kyai HS opens a Madrasah Aliyah (Higher Islamic School or MA), a choice school of al-Imdad and the progress is quite good. This is what prompted him to set up the opening Ma'had Aliy of Pesantren al-Imdad.

The data collected reveals at least four (4) criteria of impacts of a pesantren and of the actualization of its kyai’s views that can be analyzed, namely:

1) The improvement of the pesantren community religious activities.
Pesantren al-Imdad has programmed routine and incidental activities for both its students and the communities, such as mujahadah and recitals. Such activities have attracted people’s active participation, even though their level of their being present varies. However, their active participation in such various activities is more or less helpful to increasing knowledge and understanding of their religion. In general, their religious activities either daily, weekly, monthly or even yearly have increased in quality and quantity. Kyai HS has a congregation of jama’ah of his leadership held in 30 mosques one at a time, once a month. The number of people present for the study is not less than 100 people from both females and males, as well as 200 students (plus incidental santri). This indicates that the role of Kyai HS with his pesantren al-Imdad has affected the community in a broad enough scale.

2) Increasing public awareness to study at Madrasah (Islamic school)
Of late, Madrasah is generally perceived as a second-class educational institution. This is proven by the low motivation among the public to send their children to madrasah. As a result, MTs Ma’arif in Wijirejo Pandak nearly went out of business because they did not have students. After obtaining the permission of LP Ma’arif (Division of NU for education), Kyai HS soon moved door to door to get students until the MTs is now growing well. Many people now switch to send their children to madrasah.

3) Value transformation in the Tradition Nyadran

In the area of Pandak, Nyadran tradition has been preserved by the community for generations. Makam Sewu which becomes the center of this activity is very "sacred". Nyadran fasting rituals have been carried out by various walks of life: young and old, abangan-santri, and poor-rich. Since so many people get involved, the activities of Nyadran attract the public. In fact, many series of Nyadran activities tend to be occult, immoral, or staging mass entertainment that is often tinged brawls and drunkenness. Kyai HS's involvement as the chairman of the committee of Nyadran at Makam Sewu has slowly managed to shift the "negative" cultural practices. Now, the activities of Nyadran Makam Sewu have gained the recognition of the local government as a form of religious tourism in Bantul.

4) Harmony in Diversity within the life of the community

Not all santris of pesantren al-Imdad are with traditional Islamic backgrounds, neither is the community around it. Even so, they could live together in harmony; they even get actively involved in various socio-religious activities inside and outside the pesantren. In the teaching activities in the village, for example, those with different views could blend into one in the course of socio-religious activities and also follow the teachings. However, when associated with the Eid of Idul Adha, the beginning of fasting may be different due to a difference in the decision made to declare 10 Dhuzlhijjah and 1 Ramadan.

E. Conclusion

1. The Kyai of Pesantren Sunni Darussalam interprets multiculturalism as an appreciative attitude towards social diversity and differences. Firmness on opinion and attitude is needed, but it is surely different from violence in that the latter tends to be intolerant and coercive. Assertiveness requires a willingness to be tolerant to various disagreements, ability to work together in differences, and firmness on the opinion that one believes. Kyai of a pesantren holds moral perspectives rather than the perspectives of fiqh that carry a lot of differences. Meanwhile, the kyai of pesantren al-Imdad interprets multiculturalism as a willingness to work together with various diverse communities without any segregation. The routine practices of dealing with the jama'ah (community) with various backgrounds of beliefs have made him choose such approaches as: (a) avoid excessive truth claims, (b) avoid black and white perspectives, and (c) appreciate moral perspectives. The Kyai of pesantren al-Imdad considers that multiculturalism requires concern for the marginalized groups, the concern of which should be translated into real actions. The same concern is also addressed to the people’s culture that is labeled as Abangan (Moslems but not practicing Islam). According to him, it is not hostility (competing) that should be highlighted, but the attitude to readily live together in plurality that should be of our concern. His attitudes of readily living together in harmony are shown in his willingness to attempt to appreciate or embrace the tradition that has lasted for generations, the tradition of Nyadran at Makam Sewu.

2. The curriculum and the socio-religious activities of a pesantren are the primary means of a Kyai to actualize his "ideology" within the framework of the educational system administration. The kyai has gradually disseminated Pesantren Sunni Darussalam so that it is no longer regarded as a wholly salaf pesantren (traditional). This is because it has incorporated modern elements in the development of its curriculum. His academic background of being qualified as a religious scholar in the field of traditional Islamic studies, in Arabic linguistics and in contemporary Islamic discourse has influenced the design of the curriculum of pesantren Sunni Darussalam. With the design of the curriculum and with the areas of the existing studies, the Kyai has been trying to provide reinforcement to the preservation of the traditional Islamic literatures blended with the contemporary Islamic studies, either through the study of the book (by content) or via the instructional process (by process). From the point of view of multiculturalism, strengthening the preservation of the traditional Islamic literatures is intended to modernize itself against the outside elements so as not to make students uprooted from their cultural roots. In the view of the kyai, traditional Islam is the cultural roots of Islamic students and the surrounding community, for this reason, pesantren Sunni Darussalam has the primary responsibility to introduce them to the traditional Islamic literatures without closing themselves to the treasures of modern Islam and of the actual issues. In pesantren al-Imdad, the kyai handles many activities related to religious education, both in and outside the pesantren. Kyai HS seeks to provide reinforcement to the preservation of the traditional Islamic literatures blending the yellow book and the contemporary Islamic studies, either through the study of the book (by content) or via the instructional process (by process). There lies the reason for the kyai's efforts in appreciating the tradition that has lasted for generations, the tradition of Nyadran at Makam Sewu. He is optimistic that he is gradually able to improve that has been degraded. The steps of the kyai are a form of the implementation of the cultural approach through his teachings that he thinks would carry a better advantage than that of other approaches.

3. Pesantren Sunni Darussalam has grown up with the support of the surrounding community based on the mutualistic symbiosis relationship between the pesantren and the community. The existence of the pesantren has a significant impact on the pesantren community, a group of people both from the internal and the external of the pesantren that are tied to the pesantren. There are at least four (4) impact indicators of the pesantren and the actualization of the views of the kyai, namely: (a) an increase in the number of religious activities in the pesantren communities, (b) an increase in the people's willingness to sacrifice, (c) reduction of drinking behavior, and (d) community harmony in differences. Pesantren al-Imdad has made efforts to support the surrounding community. Originally, this school was a "shelter" of people who had dropped out of school but still wanted to continue to learn while working. The success of pesantren al-Imdad to promote its educational institutions has improved the reputation of the school. There are at least four (4) impact indicators of the pesantren and of the actualization of the kyai's views, namely: (a) an increase in the number of religious activities of the pesantren communities, (b) an increase of public interest to attend madrasas, (c) the transformation of values in the tradition of Nyadran, and (d) community harmony in differences.
